A

- A scan, see ultrasonography abstracts, 2:29A; 3:18A actinomycin C, for proliferative vitreoretinopathy, 4:269 aneurysms, retinal, 3:171 angiomas retinae, management, 1:59 animal studies
  hydrophilic acrylic scleral buckling implants in rabbits, 1:50 retinal tolerance to liquid silicone, 2:77 scleral buckle infection, 3:212 antibiotics absorption and release by scleral implant, 1:45 for scleral buckle infection, animal model, 3:212 antibody(es), monoclonal, antiretinoblastoma, 3:200 antigens
  HLA, in retinoblastoma, 3:206
  tumor-associated, 3:200 aphakia, retinal detachment in, 1:1
argon laser, see lasers/laser therapy arteritis, retinal, with multiple aneurysmal dilatations, 3:171 artery(ies), cilioretinal, obstruction of, 3:182 astrocytic hamartoma optic disc, in retinitis pigmentosa, 1:24 optic nervehead, in retinitis pigmentosa, 1:21 atrophy, cerebellar, in Usher's syndrome, 2:108

B

- B cells, in acute retinal necrosis, 4:249
B scan, see ultrasonography birdshot retinopathy, 2:95 book reviews
  Clinical ophthalmology: A text and colour atlas. James L. Kennerly Banks, 4:322

- Pulsed YAG laser surgery. Danièle Aron-Rosa, 3:241
Retinal detachment and allied diseases, 2 vol. Charles L. Schepens, 3:242 Uveitis: A clinical approach to diagnosis and management. Ronald E. Smith and Robert A. Nozik, 4:322 Vitrectomy techniques for the anterior segment surgeon: A practical approach. W.H. Stern, K.R. Diddie, and R.D. Smith, 4:323
YAG laser ophthalmic microsurgery. Stephen L. Troke (ed.), 4:323

C

- cancer (carcinoma), see specific organ system; tumor capillary hemangioma, retinal, management, 1:59 cataract surgery
  in chronic uveitis, 2:71 retinal detachment following, 1:1 central nervous system, in Usher's syndrome, CT assessment, 2:108
chemotherapy for proliferative retinopathy, 4:269 for retinoblastoma, 3:194 chorioretinitis, vitiliginous, 2:95 choroid
  circulation, following laser photocoagulation for neovascularization, 4:284 melanoma, disc and retinal neovascularization and, 2:118 neovascularization
  in foveal avascular zone, 1:7
  laser photocoagulation, 4:284 osteoma, subretinal neovascularization and, 4:304 thickening, 4:277
choriodopathy, idiopathic central serous, 3:159 chromosome 13
  abnormalities, in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from, 2:126 DNA fragments, isolation of, 2:121 cilioretinal artery, obstruction, 3:182 Coat's disease, 4:261
cobalt plaques, for retinoblastoma, 1:12 Coherent Model 900 argon laser photocoagulation unit, automatic water valve for, 1:62 colchicine, for proliferative retinopathy, 4:269 computed tomography (CT scan) contrast injection in, adverse reaction to, macular neuroretinopathy and, 4:312 in Usher's syndrome, 2:108 congenital anomalies autosomal dominant preretinal vascular loops, 4:258 sclera, uveal effusion and, 3:159 contrast media, adverse reaction to, macular neuroretinopathy and, 4:312 cryotherapy, in retinopathy of prematurity, 2:29A cyclitis, chronic, 2:95 familial, 3:179
  in identical twins, 1:32
cytosine arabinoside, for proliferative retinopathy, 4:269

D

- D-deletion syndrome, in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from, 2:126 daunomycin, for proliferative vitreoretinopathy, 4:269 diabetes mellitus, insulin-dependent, pupil size in, 3:18A diabetic retinopathy clinicopathologic correlative study, 3:218 proliferative, incremental panretinal photocoagulation, 4:308 DNA, recombinant, see recombinant DNA techniques drusen of optic disc, vs astrocytic hamartoma, 1:21, 24 dye laser, macular hole from, 1:40

E

Eale's disease, 4:243
 edema, macular, complicating retinal branch vein occlusion, 3:18A electrically evoked response (EER), in vitrectomy candidate, 2:86 electrophysiologic testing, in vitrectomy candidate, 2:86 electroretinogram (ERG) effect of intraocular liquid silicone on, 2:77 in retinitis punctata albescens, 1:27 in vitrectomy candidate, 2:86 endophthalmitis
     bacterial, following retinal surgery, 2:99 choroidal thickening in, 4:277 exophthalmos, in retroperitoneal fibrosis, 1:34 exudates, spheroidal, 4:261

F

FAZ, see foveal avascular zone fibrosclerotic disease, see retroperitoneal fibrosis fluid-air exchange
     in giant retinal tears, 3:139; 4:293 new instrumentation, 2:135 fluorescein angiography macular hamartoma, 3:164 right fundus, in retroperitoneal fibrosis, 1:34 wide field, contact lenses for, 2:131 5-fluorodeoxyuridine, for proliferative vitreoretinopathy, 4:269 foveal avascular zone (FAZ), choroidal neovascularization in, 1:17 fundus albipunctatus, 1:27 fundus flavimaculatus, 1:27 fundus xerophthalmicus, 1:27

G

gas, intraocular, for giant tears, 4:293 genetics chromosome 13 abnormalities, in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from, 2:126 pars planitis in identical twins, 1:32 retinoblastoma
     in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from, 2:126 isolation of DNA fragments from chromosome 13, 2:121 giant tears, see under retina glaucoma, angle closure, senile disciform macular degeneration and, 4:296

H

hamartoma
     astrocytic, 1:21, 24
     macular, 3:164
 hemorrhage
     retinal, in retroperitoneal fibrosis, 1:34 retinal detachment and, angle closure glaucoma and, 4:296 subretinal, and persistent RPE detachment, 1:16 vitreous, in senile macular degeneration, 4:318 HLA antigens, in retinoblastoma, 3:206 Hodgkin's disease, ophthalmic findings, 4:253 hydrophilic acrylate scleral buckling implant, see Reijo implant hypotony, and choroidal thickening, 4:277

I

idiopathic central serous choroidopathy, 3:159 idiopathic senile vitritis, 2:95 immunology, antiretinoblastoma monoclonal antibodies, 3:200 infection

    following scleral buckling procedure animal model for, 3:212 antibiotic prophylaxis via hydrophilic implant, 1:45 instrumentation
     for fluid-air exchange, 2:135 intraocular needleholder, 3:239 wide field fluorescein angiography, 2:131 irradiation external beam, in retinoblastoma, 1:12 x-rays, in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from patients with retinoblastoma and chromosome 13 abnormalities, 2:126 ischemia, retinal, posterior epiretinal neovascularization and, 3:188

K

Kirisawa's uveitis, 4:249
 krypton laser, see lasers/laser therapy; photocoagulation

L

lasers/laser therapy
     argon laser photocoagulation automatic water valve for, 1:62 retinal ischemia, 3:188
     retinal telangiectasia, 4:261
     subretinal neovascular membrane associated with choroidal osteoma, 4:304 Coat's disease, 4:261
     dye laser, macular hole from, 1:40 krypton laser photocoagulation, 1:7
     for choroidal neovascularization, 4:284
     for subfoveal neovascularization in senile macular degeneration, 1:7 in proliferative diabetic retinopathy, 4:308 lensectomy-vitrectomy, for cataract extraction complicated by chronic uveitis, 2:71 letters to editor, 1:64 linear echo, see under ultrasonography lymphocytes, see also B cells; T cells

M

macular degeneration, see senile macular degeneration macular edema, and retinal branch vein occlusion, 3:18A
 macular hamartoma, 3:164
 macular hole, from dye laser, 1:40 maculopathy, adverse reaction to contrast media and, 4:312 MAI implant, see Reijo implant marcaine, retrobulbar injection, complications, 2:29A melanoma, choroidal, disc and retinal neovascularization and, 2:118 methicillin sodium, for infection prophylaxis, in scleral buckling procedure, 1:45 microsurgery, for persistent hyperplastic primary vitreous, 2:29A monoclonal antibodies, antiretinoblastoma, 3:200

N

nanophthalmos, choroidal thickening, 4:277 needleholder, intraocular, 3:239
     choroidal
         in foveal avascular zone, 1:7
         laser photocoagulation, 4:284 disc, choroidal melanoma and, 2:118 epiretinal, posterior, 3:188

retinal acute retinal necrosis and, 4:249 choroidal melanoma and, 2:118 subfoveal, in senile macular degeneration, 1:7 subretinal choroidal osteoma and, 4:304 as complication of drainage of subretinal fluid, 2:114 in persistent RPE detachment, 1:16 neurofibromatosis, 1:21
 neuroretinitis, vs retinitis punctata albescens, 1:27

O

obstruction
 cilioretinal artery, 3:182 retina! branch vein, macular edema and, 3:18A ocular hypertension, induced, during photocoagulation of afferent artery in angiomas retinae, 1:59 optic disc persistent hyperplastic primary vitreous (PHPV), microsurgery for, 2:29A photocoagulation afferent artery, in angiomas retinae, 1:59 argon laser

    automatic water valve for, 1:62
    retinal telangiectasia, 4:261 of subretinal neovascularization associated with choroidal osteoma, 4:304 in diabetic retinopathy, clinicopathologic correlative study, 3:218 incremental panretinal, for proliferative diabetic retinopathy, 4:308 krypton laser
   for choroidal neovascularization, 4:284
   for subfoveal neovascularization in senile macular degeneration, 1:7 scatter, argon laser, for retinal ischemia, 3:188 phthisis bulbi, choroidal thickening in, 4:277 prepapillary vascular loops, 4:258 preretinal vascular loops, autosomal dominant, 4:258 proliferative diabetic retinopathy, 4:308 proliferative vitreoretinopathy antiproliferative drugs for, 4:269 spontaneous release of retinal traction in, 4:273 pupil size, in insulin-dependent diabetes, 3:18A

R

radiosensitivity, of fibroblasts from patients with retinoblastoma and chromosome 13 abnormalities, 2:126 radiotherapy, see irradiation recombinant DNA techniques, isolation of DNA fragments from chromosome 13, 2:121

Refojo's implant
 for antibiotic prophylaxis in scleral buckling procedure, 1:45

 retinoblastoma

  antiretinoblastoma monoclonal antibodies, 3:200
   chemotherapy, 3:194
   cobalt plaques for, 1:12 hereditary, in vitro radiosensitivity of fibroblasts from, 2:126 HLA expression induced by retinoic acid, 3:206 isolation of DNA fragments from chromosome 13, 2:121 retinoic acid, and induced HLA expression in retinoblastoma, 3:206

retinopathy
   adverse reaction to contrast media and, 4:312 birdshot, 2:95
   diabetic, see diabetic retinopathy retinopathy of prematurity, cryotherapy for, 2:29A retrolental fibroplasia, prevention of, 2:29A retroperitoneal fibrosis, ocular involvement, 1:24

S

sclera, congenital anomalies, uveal effusion and, 3:159 scleral buckling procedure bacterial endophthalmitis following, 2:99 for giant retinal tears, 4:293 infection following, animal model for, 3:212 prophylactic antibiotics in, hydrophilic implant for, 1:45 Refojo implant, 1:45

     long-term clinicopathologic observations (rabbit), 1:50 sclerectomy, for uveal effusion, 3:159 sclerostomy, for uveal effusion, 3:159 senile macular degeneration
